Background

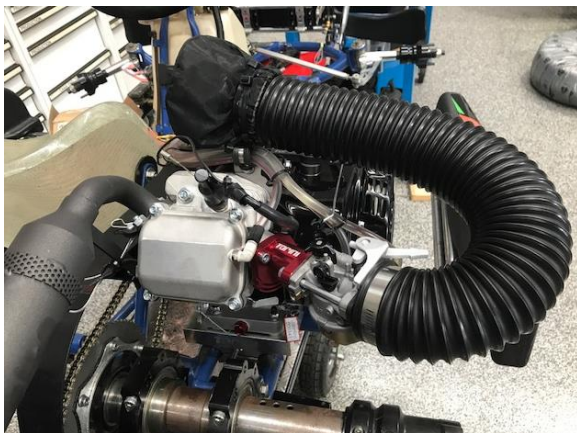

An OEM Torini Clubmaxx 210 engine air filter wet weather cover is currently under development.

Permitted Cover

This TRI details an interim air filter wet weather cover (Cover) that is permitted for use on the Torini Clubmaxx 210 engine. The sole purpose of the Cover is to prevent water entering the engine.

The photos below provide a graphical representation of the Cover that is permitted for use until the OEM component is available.

Note that a Cover that prevents water entering the engine but that does not provide any performance enhancement is permitted for interim use.
